

Aventis Systems® Exhibits at Data Connectors Atlanta Tech-Security Conference

ATLANTA, Georgia - October 4, 2012 - Aventis Systems, Inc. was excited to be a first-time exhibitor at the Atlanta Tech-Security Conference, presented by Data Connectors. The conference included approximately 30 vendors and numerous industry experts, who gathered to discuss trending I.T. topics, such as VoIP, LAN security, wireless security, and USB drives, to name a few. The all-day event was held in downtown Atlanta at the Hyatt Regency hotel. The conference setup included a vendor hall and a speaking auditorium, which permitted attendees to go from one room to another in order to obtain an optimal mix of I.T. content in addition to product and service knowledge. Raffle drawings and networking sessions were also interspersed throughout the day, as both attendees and exhibitors were afforded the opportunity to get to know one another, while having some fun.

Aventis Systems was pleased to have the opportunity to exhibit at such a notable and well attended event. "Today, more than ever, I.T. security is a main concern for companies everywhere. At Aventis Systems, we have a plethora of I.T. solutions that can ensure optimal security for any organization, big or small," stated Ben Yampolsky, Director of Information Technology for Aventis Systems. "Attending Data Connectors Conference is just one way that we can share our offerings with the community, while simultaneously learning about important I.T. trends as we strive to be an industry leader."

With an extensive line of I.T. products and services, including a warranty and on-site services lineup, Aventis Systems is poised to help any organization protect its data and achieve maximum security.
