

Aventis Systems Gives Back During 23rd Annual Hand's On Atlanta Day

ATLANTA, Georgia – October 8, 2013 – Aventis Systems eagerly volunteered on Saturday, October 5 during the 23rd Annual Hand's On Atlanta Day. Each year, Hands On Atlanta brings together thousands of volunteers to participate in Atlanta's largest civic engagement opportunity. During this annual event, community and corporate volunteers restore and renew a number of places around Greater Atlanta by providing labor and materials. The projects around the city yield sustainability, enrichment, and create a brighter future for all communities served.

Aventis Systems team members as well as friends and family members donated their time and talents this year by painting Sagamore Hills Elementary School's cafeteria and auditorium. Team members collaboratively worked together to mask off areas, place drop cloths, and paint three distinct areas in the cafeteria and auditorium in a matter of a couple hours.

"Without the Aventis Systems Team this project would not have been a success," states Carolyn Walker, Hands On Atlanta Volunteer Leader. "Aventis Systems' support made such a big impact in such a short amount of time." As a result of the work there, Sagamore Hills will have a much brighter and cheery cafeteria for its elementary school students. Aventis Systems' chose Sagamore Hills realizing that their time and efforts would enhance the learning environments and experiences for young adolescents.

"Offering our volunteer labor this year is just a small commitment to making a difference in the lives of Georgia communities and organizations," states Tiffany Bloomer, Director of Business Development & Marketing. "Aventis Systems is poised to serve its community for years to come."
